

Countryman, Ryan

From: Alan Doman <alanjdoman@gmail.com>
Sent: Saturday, January 25, 2020 7:51 AM
To: MacCready, Paul
Subject: Point Wells Variance Request

CAUTION : This email originated from outside of this organization. Please exercise caution with links and attachments.

I am writing to document concern and to encourage denial of variance request to increase height restrictions to 180 feet. The argument that denial of the variance will render the site "undevelopable" is not a sufficient reason to allow development in a way that restricts views and changes the nature of the surrounding area.

Building thirty 18-story structures along this shoreline is in no way compatible with the features and utility of this site. It will constitute an eyesore and destroy the setting.

I support no development other than clean-up of the site and restoration to its natural setting. Issues of egress, congestion, infringement of rights to existing property owners, and aesthetics all forcibly argue against development--even with 90 foot restrictions--let alone 180 foot restrictions.

Do not facilitate the destruction of this site by allowing this massive, invasive incursion. If development can't be done within existing parameters, it should not be done!

Regards,
Alan J. Doman
Deborah L. Doman
Woodway, WA 98020

Exhibit W-5 Doman, Alan January 25 2020
PFN: 11-101457 LU